

Three Crow Glass

Christina Mayr & Jeff Ferrier:

Three Crow Glass Studio is the creative space of Jeff Ferrier and Christina Mayr. They thrive on the challenge and discipline that glassblowing presents. They draw inspiration from their unique sense of humor and hold the philosophy that life is fun.

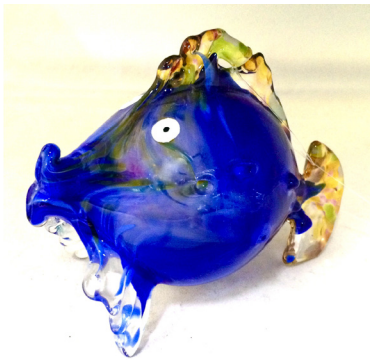

Jeff and Christina gather hot molten glass from a furnace on a long metal pipe. They work at very high temperatures, between 2050 and 2100 degrees. Metal, wood, and paper tools help to shape the glass that they are unable to touch due to the incredible heat. The end result is colorful and whimsical glass pieces that bring joy to others.
